Do you want to build a Snowman?

Over winter break our lovely small town of Cheney got snowed in! The winter wonderland was about a foot of snow and our AOII's loved making snowmen and going on midnight sled rides.

Merry Christmas!

We hope all of the Alumnae had a wonderful Christmas and a great New Year! Here is a collage of some Alpha O's showing their love on Christmas night.

Ice Skating

Here are some sisters ice skating at the University Rec Center during Informal Rush. Some of them had to use some help from the metal walkers to keep their balance. The girls went ice skating as one of the continuous open bidding events for potential new members. AOII Tau Gamma was able to give bids to four girls. On the other days we made cookies with the potential new members and watched a movie.

Tau Gama at Capacity!

AOII Tau Gamma has a total of 96 members. Winter Informal Rush was a success with these four lovely ladies accepting a bid into this amazing chapter of Alpha Omicron Pi.

Founders Day

As many of you know on January 2 1897 this amazing sorority, Alpha Omicron Pi was founded. This sorority has brought together so many wonderful ladies and has given them unforgettable memories and experiences. We are all proud to be an AOII! Tau Gama will be having a Founders Day Celebration in the spring. An invite and email will be sent out soon with dates and times.

Marshmallow Architecture

One of our sisterhood events we had was making famous well known landmarks such as the Seattle Space Needle, the Eiffel Tower, and Leaning Tower of Pisa which is what the first photo on the left is. Our sisters loved putting on their construction hats and using the marshmallows and noodles to create these landmarks.

Tacky Tourist

Here are our sisters dressing as tacky as any tourist can get at our sisterhood chapter. We had sisters dress up as Hawaiian tourists, Alaskan tourists, and Disneyland tourists.

Social-Bees

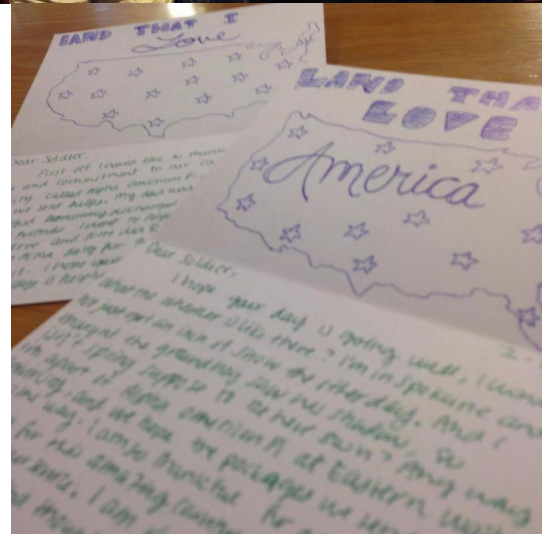

Socializing with the men of Phi Delta Theta, playing minute to win it games at the AOII house. Some of the games played were mummy wrap using toilet paper and knocking over a stack of cups only with a yo-yo that was tied to their pants. It was a very fun night!

Sisters for Soldiers

Our sisters spent their morning writing numerous letters to those serving over seas. We also were able to collect supplies from other sororities and fraternity on campus as well as from the EWU student body. We packaged up and sent the soldiers up card games, footballs, books, and toiletry items.

Here is a collection of the throwback Thursday and transformation Tuesday photos!! We are having so much fun recreating these we hope you enjoy them!
